2. There are several reasons why this Office wants to set up a research and development contract with [redacted] We presently have a requirement for a miniature power supply for the automatic agent set, AS-3. Many companies have been approached with this requirement and with the exception of [redacted] all of the other companies have proposed power supplies which are either too large or too expensive. In addition to this, [redacted] has recently devised circuitry on miniature power converters which should also be useful to this Office. It is desired to establish a contract and allocate funds prior to the end of this fiscal year.
